Homework Submission Guideline

- Homework is due in class by the due date. Normally, you will have at least seven days to finish your homework. Late penalty points may be applied if you fail to submit your homework on time.

- No homework will be accepted after the solution of that set of homework has been posted on the webpage or after the homework has been graded and returned to students.

- A rare exception of the above can only be made in the case of unusual circumstances.

- You should show your work--how you got your solution for that problem. Even though your answer maybe wrong, you will get some partial credits. Writing only the (wrong) answer may get you nothing.
